

"Back to Normal" at Lois' Natural Marketplace in Scarborough

The 24 year old natural and organic marketplace has its front glass window replaced after a car crashed through the front of the store a month ago.

SCARBOROUGH, Maine, March 17, 2017 - Early Friday morning there was more activity than usual at Lois' Natural Marketplace at 152 Route 1 in Scarborough. A wall of plywood came down and crews installed a large front glass window that was shattered February 18 when a car crashed through the store's entrance. No one was hurt.

"It's so much more welcoming with the sun shining through our new front window," says Valarie Brown, Executive Business Manager at Lois' Marketplace. "Perfect timing with Spring at our doorstep."

Except for closing a day and a half for necessary clean-up and rearranging merchandise, Lois' remained open for business as usual while awaiting the front window replacement. Solid yellow cement posts have been placed in the parking area in front of the store.
